

MouseAdventure

Each of our MouseAdventure events is designed around a theme and is made up of a series of puzzles we call quests. The following document is an example of our recent spring 2019 event at Disneyland, MouseAdventure Goofy Sports.

We have provided a copy of the materials that teams received on game day, as well as a walkthrough of one of the quests: Fishing. This walkthrough provides background on development, as well as how one type of our quests is solved.

For a full review of this event, as well as recaps of all our events, please take a look at our MouseAdventure History web pages.

Fishing Quest Walkthrough

One common feature of parks that we use are words with double letters in them. For Goofy Sports, the Third Gate Games team started by capturing images of signage around Adventureland that showed words containing double letters. In production, we use software to digitally remove the applicable word from the image, then crop the photo to make it more challenging to find amongst the surrounding theming.

Since this quest centered around fishing for Goofy Sports, the layout of the quest page used colored fish to represent different letters of the alphabet. The final question was encoded using the colored fish. On the reverse side of the page from the fish code, the altered images were presented at one end of a fishing line, with the associated colored fish at the "hook." Numbers along the line instruct how to move forward or backward in the alphabet from the double letter in the missing word to the final letter for the fish.

During the game, teams located the missing words from the images, then transformed them to give the letter for each color of fish. Then, using those letters and colors, they decoded the question: Tell us what three items are in stock. The answer to this question is found on the exterior wall of the Jungle Cruise, in letters about 18" high: Provisions, Fuel, Ammunition.

Goofy's angling skills are not great, but he's determined to try his hand in the waters of Adventureland. Unfortunately, his casting is way off, and he seems to have mainly snagged words from various signs around the area. Strangely enough, all these words contain double letters. Too bad he didn't catch some barramundi or pollock.

Locate the missing words from each of the images on the back and write down the double letter it contains. Follow the fishing line to identify the letter associated with the fish at the other end, moving forward (+) and backward (-) in the alphabet the indicated number of letters.

You may wrap around the end of the alphabet in either direction, e.g. if you were at X and wanted to move +3, you would end up on A. Write down the letter you finish on at the end. Use those letters to decipher the encoded message below.

Write your final answer on your answer sheet.

Mouse Adventure GOOFY SPORTS Cricket

When it's time for a game of cricket, Goofy decides to call on his friend Jiminy to help out. Unfortunately, neither of them seems to know about the game that involves bats, wickets, and bowlers.

In cricket, a rabbit is a poor batter. In Jiminy's game, it might be one of the animals he's hidden and wants you to guess.

Goofy has taken photos around Fantasyland, and Jiminy has hopped in front of an animal in each one. Locate these creatures and write the kind of animal they are into the provided spaces. Please note that not all the boxes will be filled. When completed, the highlighted boxes will spell the final question.

Write the answer on your answer sheet.

Goofy golf means something entirely different than the traditional game of 18 holes on a verdantly green, pristinely manicured course. It often involves crazy obstacles like windmills, castles, and snapping alligators. One thing is for sure though: always keep your eye on the tee. Goofy has found a lot of tees in Critter Country, but he can't quite remember what words they are from.

To solve this quest, locate the Ts below and then write down the letter to the right or left the indicated number of spaces. Once complete, the letters will spell out a location. Please tell us who runs this establishment. Write your answer on your answer sheet.

Goofy loves running around in circles; it makes him a little dizzy though. He's been busy keeping track of things in Tomorrowland but all those laps have made him a little fuzzy-headed and he's forgotten some of the words.

Fill in the blank of each phrase below. Enter those words in counter-clockwise order around the track. You can start anywhere on the track, just make sure to note your starting position. Use letters only, no punctuation. When you've filled in all the words, decode the numbers by starting at your noted start position on the track.

Count counter-clockwise the number of squares indicated by the numbers on the infield and write the letter down. Continue around the track. Do not eliminate any letters; some letters may be used more than once.

Write the final answer on your answer sheet.

- A _____ Zone: 200,000,000 BC
- B Add Your Name in English or _____
- C To Ride _____
- D ...adventurers traveling _____ the frontier and uncharted space.
- E GET YOUR _____ PHOTO HERE
- F ...with predictions of _____ things to come.
- G TO DOWNTOWN DISNEY AND _____
- H PLEASE SEE MISSION COMMANDER FOR _____
- I RACE THROUGH THE UNIVERSE, _____ THROUGH THE STARS
- J ...adventure experienced inside enclosed, _____ vessel.
- K MIXED RECYCLING PLASTIC PAPER CANS _____

Shooting at the Olympics requires a keen eye and steady hand. Goofy has neither of these. Hopefully you can find someone with better luck than him at work at the Frontierland Shootin' Exposition. These targets behave very differently than a bullseye or a sporting clay.

Match each target below with its reaction when hit from the A-Z listing. Once you have all the matches made, it's time to connect the dots on the back of this page. Starting at the top of the leftmost column of targets, draw a line from the letter of its reaction to the next one down the column. Continue down the column, then move to the second and the third in the same way.

This ricochet line intersects letters, that when read in the order you crossed them above, will spell out your final question. Write the answer on your answer sheet.

Swim, bike, run? We all know there's no running in MouseAdventure, but those words do make a nice set. Goofy's triathlon is all puzzles, all the time. Time to collect, fill, decode!

Based on the provided clue, locate a set of three items in Toontown. Collecting the sets of items is leg one of this triathlon. Leg two is filling in the puzzles. Unfortunately, Goofy got the puzzles mixed up. Each puzzle will use one word from each original set. It is up to you to figure out which word goes where.

After the puzzles are filled in, it's time for the final leg of this triathlon: decoding! The words with the highlighted column down the middle gives you the final answer in the green highlighted letters. For the crossword, write down the blue highlighted letters in numerical order to reach your final answer. In the orange word search, you need to locate the second unused letter in each column. This will give you the final answer here.

Oh wait, did we say triathlon? Goofy's on trend so this is Triathlon+. Don't stop racing yet! Follow the final instructions above the grids on the back of the second page to decode your final question.

BASIC TEAMS: for partial credit, be sure to write the answers from each of the three puzzles (green, blue and orange) on your answer sheet.

There's a flag on the field! Goofy forgot to watch the clock and now you'll have to wait to pick up two additional quests at MouseAdventure Central starting at 11 a.m.

Don't wait too long to pick them up or you'll run into delays.

Goofy really enjoys curling, especially since it involves a lot of weird fashion and yelling. You don't need to put on any argyle pants for this, but sporty poses are encouraged.

Find a Disney Photopass photographer anywhere in the park and have your team pose for a photo. Make sure your team number is visible on your lanyards in the photo. Make sure you collect a Photopass card from the Disney cast member after they scan it.

Turn in the Photopass card at MouseAdventure Central by 3:30 PM to receive credit for this quest. Make sure you write your team number on the card in Sharpie (if you don't have one, you can borrow one of ours at Central). Also make sure the MouseAdventure crew member stamps your answer sheet after turning in your card.

En garde! Goofy has really gotten into fencing at Disneyland and has taken a lot of pictures of his favorites. Alas, he has missed the mark and is foiled again.

Locate each fence pictured on the back. Based on the information given with each image, write the Guidemap location number/letter for that attraction, store, eatery, etc. into the corresponding space on your answer sheet.

Goofy's got gloves, so he should be really good at boxing, right?

That's right, Goofy's gotten it wrong again and thinks we need to package things (wearing gloves for safety of course).

We've gone ahead and taken some punches though. Decode them using the provided layout. Write the final answer on your answer sheet.

Giddy up, it's time to round up the dogies. Not doggies, Goofy. We aren't disparaging your pedigree. The steers we're after are hiding in plain sight inside the Golden Horseshoe. To rope them, you'll need to create your own lassos from the provided perforated paper.

Tear apart the 7 strips and turn each into a "lasso" (ring) using the provided stickers. The top square of each strip should overlap the dark grey square at the bottom so that the text is shown on the outside of the ring.

To catch each bull, you'll need to arrange lassos in a single row to match the pictures of horns. Start with the first pair of horns located to the right as you face the stage and continue clockwise around the room. Once you have the first seven, record the corresponding grey boxed letters below the pictures to start to form a question, then proceed to the next six set of horns.

Write your answer on your answer sheet.

Stay in your lane, or else.

In order to help relieve stress, Walt Disney took up polo after unsuccessful attempts at other sports. Walt's team was the Mickey Mouse Team; there was also a Donald Duck Team that included other people working at the Disney Studios. Goofy wants a polo team too, so it's time to get a horse and go searching for some uniforms. Unfortunately, the only material on Main Street seems to be Mickey or Minnie Mouse colors.

Follow the trolley track, starting while facing the train station, and make your way in a clockwise loop around

Main Street, keeping track of the Mickey and Minnie Mouse bunting as you pass them. If buntings are stacked vertically, start with the one on the top and work your way down before proceeding to the next one on the right. Use the letters in the columns under each corresponding pattern below to decipher the question. Once you use a letter, write it down and cross it out. Do not use any banners on the pole-os.

Write your answer to the final question on your answer sheet.

Goofy put together a bunch of trading cards for his baseball team and has given you each a set (sorry, he already took all the gum). Unfortunately, Goofy is about as bad at shuffling as he is at batting; each set is made up of a single character. In order to collect a full set of nine cards, you'll need to trade with other teams playing MouseAdventure today. The provided card sleeve will help you organize them as you go.

You may also trade one time with a member of the Third Gate Games staff (Chris, David, Joe or Stephanie) only if:

- 1) we are not at MouseAdventure Central, and
- 2) we are wearing a sports cap.

No trades may take place at or near MouseAdventure Central.

Please be good sports, and play nicely with one another! Once you have a full set of cards, the question will be revealed on the reverse side of the cards.

Baseball gets you rooting for the home team. Look for the answer to this quest in the area that pays homage to Walt's hometown, Main Street USA.

MouseAdventure Game Play

This MouseAdventure event consists of one MouseAdventure quest packet. You will receive your packet by presenting your adventure card to a designated MouseAdventure Crew person at your starting location. You can work on the quests in any order you choose. Time management is a major component of this event.

Here are the items you will use to complete today's game:

- MouseAdventure Adventure Card. The adventure card contained in this envelope indicates the location where you will begin today's hunt. You will need to exchange this card for your quest packet.
- One Quest Answer Sheet. This colored sheet is in this packet. Write all your answers on the answer sheet. Verify that your team number is on your answer sheet.
- Trivia answer sheet. This bubble-fill sheet is included in this packet as well. Verify that it has your team number and turn in this answer sheet as instructed. Do not modify the team number bubbles.
- One Quest Packet. You will collect the quest packet at your starting location.

NOTE: It is extremely important that you make no marks on your answer sheet(s) outside of the designated answer boxes. If you don't record your answer where indicated, or put marks where you shouldn't, there is no guarantee it will be seen and could cause incorrect scoring.

Event Start

Everyone will remain in the restaurant for instructions and a brief question and answer period before being released to head to your starting locations.

All teams will start at the same time at the location designated by their adventure card; see the map on the back for details. You will have plenty of time to get to your starting location, and no quests will be handed out before the designated start time.

Today's start time is _____

Once You Have Your Quest Packet

Time management matters. This event has more quests than most teams can solve within the time allotted, so strategize to maximize your final score. If you turn in your final answer sheet before 4:00PM, make sure that the crew member who collects your sheet writes your finish time on your answer sheet. In the event of a tie, turn in time will be used as the tiebreaker. THIS IS YOUR RESPONSIBILITY.

Hints and Clarifications

If you are stuck on a quest and need a clarification or a hint, you can return to MouseAdventure Central.

- If you're stuck for any reason, ask for help. Clarifications are free. If needed, the MouseAdventure crew will clarify any wording that may be giving you trouble.
- If you are playing in the Basic Division, and you need more help than a simple clarification, you can ask for a hint. You get three free hints to start, but each additional hint will cost you a 10 point penalty.
- A hint is NOT an answer. We will help get you going on the right track, but will not provide you with any answers.
- Crew members cannot help with trivia or eye-spys.

Event Deadlines

Once the game has started there are a few important deadlines for you to keep in mind. Please be sure to read all quests carefully as three quests have different end times.

11:00AM – Trade in Delay of Game for additional quests.

3:30PM – Hints for Basic teams end, Curling turn-in deadline.

4:00PM – The game ends. All teams must be in line to turn in their answer sheets at MouseAdventure Central by this time.

Scoring

- The teams with the highest score, adjusted for bonuses and penalties, win.
- Trivia (50 questions) is worth one point per correct question with no penalty for wrong answers.

Additional Information

- There is only one MouseAdventure Central for this game. This is where you will go for hints and clarifications.
- We ask that your team leave the restaurant through the main exit. Loitering in the restaurant may result in a team penalty!
- If items (answer sheets, trivia answer sheet, adventure card) are missing from your sign in packet, please stop by the sign in tables before you leave the restaurant. These items cannot be replaced once inside Disneyland Park.
- If something is missing from your quest packet, visit MouseAdventure Central location for assistance.
- Disney parks are dynamic places—who knows what may change and affect this game. Your game packet may include an errata page if we found errors or changes that affect game play after the materials were printed. Consider checking with MouseAdventure Central to see if there are any new announcements or changes.
- Each team member must wear the provided team numbers at all times during the game. Any team substitutions must be made prior to the start of the event.
- If a team member must drop out during the game, return to MouseAdventure Central for instructions. Don't just leave them sitting on a bench somewhere—your team will receive penalty points.
- Registered participants consent to the use of their likeness in photos for articles about, and promotion of, the event.

MouseAdventure Rules

These rules apply to all teams participating in MouseAdventure regardless of division. Violation of these rules may result in point penalties or disqualification. Unidentified crew members are monitoring for violations, and although their decisions may be subjective, there is no appeal. If you need to do something that may look like you are violating one of the event rules (such as making a phone call or checking your smartphone), return to MouseAdventure Central to check in with the MouseAdventure crew members there before you do it to avoid penalties.

The following are NOT permitted:

- Splitting up Unless otherwise directed, teams must stay together at all times. Your team is only as fast as your slowest member. All teammates should be within a few feet of each other. You may not send one member of your team to research something in another land, or leave one member to “rest” while the others complete a quest.

Exceptions:

- Restroom breaks or Baby Care Center visits (the rest of the team must remain nearby).
- If a quest calls for you to ride or enter an attraction and one or more players are unwilling or unable to ride that attraction, your team should leave those player(s) at the exit of the attraction before entering the queue. You may not leave any game materials with non-riding players while you wait in line, and non-riding players must remain at the attraction exit until the rest of the team returns.
- Running Just don't do it.
- Rushing through crowds Do not move faster than local conditions allow; forcing your way through crowded areas will result in penalties.
- Line-cutting, pushing, shoving, or other rudeness Play it safe since this is essentially a subjective call, and violations result in serious point deductions. While you may be in a competition, please remember to be respectful of other guests who are here to enjoy a day at the Disneyland Resort.
- Cutting through rides or theaters Once you enter an attraction queue or theater, you must continue as normal through to the exit or sit through the entire show. This rule WILL be enforced for this event - you've been warned.
- Use of external lighting Players may not use external lighting of any kind inside of theaters or attractions.
- Entering through an exit Players may not enter any attraction through the exit unless using a designated accessible entrance.
- Entering a store / Entering a restaurant that accepts reservations Players may not enter any store or any restaurant that accepts reservations.
- Any kind of overt cheating Examples would be looking at another team's materials, or asking people not on your team for assistance.

- Collaborating with other teams, friends or family Teams may not work with other teams during the event unless specifically instructed to. Unregistered friends, companions and children over 5 years old may not accompany your team during the game.
- Asking for or accepting assistance from Disney Cast Members Teams found getting CM assistance receive zero credit for that quest, even if the Cast Members initiate the assistance. Be polite in telling them you need to do it yourself.
- Using reference materials other than the park Guidemap and brochure Unless a quest indicates otherwise, the use of any other reference materials is strictly prohibited (this includes any materials you may bring, as well as books available in various stores).
- Use of electronic equipment (including smart phones, digital cameras, audio recorders, laptops, flashlights, etc.) Teams may not use any electronic equipment to aid in event completion unless otherwise directed. We understand that “real life” may intrude on MouseAdventure, but our crew can't tell what you're doing from a distance. Penalties cannot be appealed. If you need to use a prohibited device during the event, we strongly recommend that you return to MouseAdventure Central to do so to prevent any misunderstandings.

Thanks
